Could Not Accept Nomination to Any Office He Declares

Flat Announcement Is Issued by Army Chief of Staff This Morn

Washington, Jan. 23—(AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower said flatly today: "I am not available for and culd not accept nomination to high political office."

The former Army chief of staff's statement referred to entry of his name in the New Hampshire presidential primary March 9.

"Ike" wrote Leonard V. Finder, publisher of the Manchester Evening Leader, that for two reasons he had heretofore "refrained from making the bald statement that I would not accept nomination."

The first, Eisenhower said, was that such an expression would "smack of effrontery."

A second and deeper reason, the general added, was a "persistent doubt that I could phrase a flat refusal without appearing to violate that concept of duty to country which calls upon every good citizen to place no limitations upon his readiness to serve in any designated capacity."

States This Conviction

In this connection, Eisenhower said it is his conviction that "unless an individual feels some inner compulsion and special qualifications to enter the political arena—which I do not—a refusal to do so involves no violation of the highest standards of devotion to duty." He continued:

"It was only the possible misinterpretation of my attitude that caused me concern and so long as I could believe that mere denial of political ambition would prevent serious misunderstandings and misdirected effort, I was reluctant to say more.

"It would seem almost superflous for me to add that as long as I live I shall hold myself in instant readiness to respond to any call by the government to military duty."

To Take Leave Feb. 15

Eisenhower is scheduled to go on terminal leave from the Army around February 15 and in June will become president of Columbia university.

His name not only has been entered through a delegate slate in the first presidential primary of the year in New Hampshire, but Republican supporters also entered his name in the Oregon primary in May.

Only yesterday some of his supporters announced they would make an effort to put him in the California primary, also scheduled for May.

Eisenhower has been regarded as a leading "dark horse" for the 1948 Republican nomination for many months.

Only this week members of the Republican national committee

Taft, Vandenberg Near Agreement on Europe Aid Details

Michigan Senator Urges Running Plan Outside State Department

Washington, Jan. 23—(AP)—Senators Vandenberg and Taft appear today to be nearing agreement on a plan to run the European recovery program outside the state department with the president umpiring foreign policy decisions.

Taft, head of the senate Republican policy committee, told a reporter he is favorably impressed by a series of suggestions Chairman Vandenberg has made to the senate foreign relations committee.

In questioning a witness yesterday, Vandenberg asked about the possibility of having a separate Marshall plan administrator who would sit with a committee consisting of the secretaries of state, treasury, commerce, agriculture and defense on all matters of policy.

If this group disagreed, the Michigan senator said, the president would become the "ultimate umpire". But Vandenberg said the administrator must have "a very large area of independent decision" in actual operation of the European Aid program

Separate Administrator

"That's just about what I had in mind in suggesting the administrator would be given cabinet rank", Taft said. "I think an arrangement of that kind could be made to work effectively".

Legislation suggested by President Truman calls for a separate administrator, but testimony by government witnesses has made it plain he would take orders from the secretary of state.

Vandenberg and Taft represent the top leadership of their party in the senate. There has been much

Negro Girl's Fight Nearing New Crisis

Oklahoma City, Jan. 23—(AP)—Both sides in a Negro girl's fight to enter the all-white University of Oklahoma prepared today for the next crisis in the story affair.

This will come Monday when Mrs. Ada Sipuel Fisher, 23-year-old Negro honor student, will probably refuse to enroll at a hastily contrived Negro law school in the state Capitol building here. The school will be a branch of the state university for Negroes at Langston.

The legal side of the case reached at least a temporary halt yesterday when it returned from state and federal Supreme courts to the Cleveland county District courtroom where Mrs. Fisher brought suit two years ago after being refused entrance to the white university because of her race.

Amos Hall, Mrs. Fisher's attorney, asked Judge Justin Hinshaw to order at once that she be admitted to the university. He said this was the only way to comply with the higher courts' orders.

Judge Hinshaw refused, and agreed with Fred Hansen, assistant state attorney general, on the separte Negro school and the segregation principle in the state constitution.

But he added that if a separate Negro law school is not provided at once Oklahoma must do one of two things: either let Mrs. Fisher into the white law course, or let nobody in at all—either white or Negro.

Four Children Die in Separate Fires

Peoria, Ill., Jan. 23—(AP)—Two small children burned to death in their beds early today, despite efforts of an eight-year-old brother to save them, as fire destroyed their two-story frame home.

The dead were Archie Chase, Jr., 7, and Chester, 5. Their father was burned critically as he fled the flames. Their mother was burned slightly while carrying out Janice Margaret, 3, who was not hurt. Donald Lee, 8, was burned slightly as he tried vainly to rescue his younger brothers.

Spotted

Los Angeles, Jan. 23—(AP)—A spot on the wall grew into a blot on her marriage, Mrs. Ward W. Smith told the judge yesterday in obtaining a divorce.

"My husband repeatedly told me I was a poor housekeeper for not removing the spot", she testified. "Then one day, he decided to get some soap and water and remove it himself.

"He rubbed at the spot, but instead of disappearing, it became larger.

"So he got some more soap and rubbed some more, but the spot just grew and grew and he got madder and madder.

"I just stood watching and that seemed to irritate him more. So finally he turned on me and slapped my face".

Strike Paralyzes Bavaria in Protest of Food Shortage

Predict Walkout to Last Over Weekend; No Violence Reported

Munich Germany, Jan. 23—(AP)—Most of Bavaria was paralyzed today by a general strike of up to 1,000,000 workers. They were called out by union leaders to protest food shortages.

The strike started at midnight and was to last 24 hours. Indications in many areas were that it would continue through Saturday and Sunday. It was the largest mass labor walkout in Germany since the war.

No violence was reported by early afternoon in any major cities — Munich, Nuernberg, Wuerzburg, Augsburg, Passau, Coberg or Hof. Strikers occasionally were rough with small stores which stayed open in two areas, but generally the Bavarians used the strike as a day of rest.

Demonstrate in Munich

Some 90,000 Munich workers demonstrated here in Adolf Hitler's old parade grounds, marching with Red banners demanding "liberty," U. S. military government observers said Communist elements took part.

The crowd dispersed quietly.

Earlier, hundreds of angry German commuters had stormed U. S. military trains trying to get to work. Rail authorities finally put on emergency trains.

Woman Says Mate Forced Her to Kill

Machias, Me., Jan. 23—(AP)—A 41-year-old woman was held today on a charge of manslaughter in the death of her husband who, she said, forced her to shoot him on threat of killing her and their baby after he had killed to other relatives and wounded a state trooper.

Sheriff Ray S. Foster said Thomas Drinkwater, 53, of Bangor handed a carbine to his wife, Alice, at Columbia yesterday, and said:

"I'm not going to spend the rest of my life in jail. You can shoot me or I'm going to shoot you and the baby."

"Well, I just couldn't let him shoot the child," Foster quoted Mrs. Drinkwater as saying. I took the gun and he said, 'Here, point it right at my chest.' I did and pulled the trigger."

The husband was angered because his wife wouldn't return to live with him, Foster said.

Widow Claims Maps Show Location of Another Cache of Pirate Gold

West Palm Beach, Fla., Jan. 23—(AP)—The widow of a once-wealthy Tammany Hall leader said today she has two maps showing the location of $76,000,000 in pirate gold and is seeking a contractor to recover the treasure.

Mrs. Bula Edmundson Croker, 64, widow of Richard C. Croker, said she owns the land where the maps show the gold was buried in the years 1781-1783 about 40 miles from Pensacola.

She said the maps place gold and other valuables in 25 feet of water in a bayou she believes the treasures resting on rock bottom about 38 feet below the surface.

"I've been trying to find someone who is treasure-minded," she said in disclosing she had written J. P. Conway, contractor now digging for gold in Green Cove Springs. "This fellow seems to know his business. I think he can find this gold, but he may have to sink a cofferdam to get it."

Conway said he received the letter and planned to contact Mrs. Croker, but his first job is to complete the search for $4,000,000 in pirate loot believed buried on the main street of Green Cove Springs.

Mrs. Croker said her maps were brought to this country from Madrid by a man named Andrea, who became ill and died in the home of Jacob Faust. She said the maps were handed down to Faust's grandson, Capt. Walter M. Brown, who gave them to her in 1936. One of the maps shows the location of $4,000,000 and the other $72,000,000, Mrs. Croker said.

Today's Acts, Talks in Nation's Capital Summarized by AP

Activities on Capitol Hill Briefed by Writers for Telegraph Readers

Washington, Jan. 23—(AP)—Edwin W. Pauley faced Harold E. Stassen in a senate committee room today and accused the Republican presidential hopeful of telling "falsehoods" about him.

Pauly, a special assistant to the Secretary of the Army, demanded that the appropriations subcommittee give him the opportunity to "face this man right here."

Pauley has conceded that he profited $932,703 on the commodity markets in the past three years, but denied that he had any "inside information" as Stassen declared was the case with some government officials who traded in wheat and other commodities.

Subcommittee Chairman Ferguson (R-Mich) ruled that any questions Pauley desired to ask Stassen must be put in writing and submitted through the senators.

Minutes later, Stassen asserted that Pauley made $40,175 profit on two transactions in grain immediately after Secretary of Agriculture Anderson declared in a Sept. 19 speech that grain prices were not realistic.

"Political" Heading Charged

"These statements, which of course were not correct, caused a temporary drop in grain prices," Stassen testified.

Earlier, Senator Tydings (D-Md) had charged that his Republican colleagues on the committee were conducting a "political" hearing on Pauley, who has announced he is resigning his government post.

Meanwhile other lawmakers concentrated on what kind of an administration should handle the European recovery program, how much President Truman's $39,669,000,000 budget should be cut,

Change of Venue for Marsh Will Be Asked

Rockford, Ill., Jan. 23—(AP)—Glenn Marsh's counsel, declaring there is "inflamed public opinion," said today he will seek a change of venue to Peoria for the second trial of the husky farmer, accused of murdering the father of his former paramour.

A Circuit court Jury Jan. 16 acquitted Marsh of a charge of murdering Vernon Anderson, husband of Katherine (Kit) Anderson, 28, with whom Marsh had carried on an illicit love affair. Trial on a charge of murdering Grant Muhrlein 52, of Northport, Mich., Kit's father, had been set for Feb. 23 by Circuit Judge William R. Dusher of Rockford.

B. J. Knight, Marsh's attorney, announced that when the case is called, he will ask a change of venue which would transfer the case to Judge William M. Carroll of Woodstock, the nearest judge in this circuit. Then he said, he will move that the case be transferred to Peoria, about 140 miles from here.

Knight told newsmen he believed public opinion was so "inflamed" that his client could not get an impartial jury within a 100 mile radius.

Only Mink Prey of These Gunmen

Detroit, Jan. 23 — (AP) — A widespread police search was pressed today after two discriminating gunmen held up a pair of New York fur salesmen during a hotel card game last night and made off with $75,000 worth of mink garments.

Held for questioning as a suspect in the theft was a man who Detective Lt. Charles O'Brien said was found loitering near room 1429 of the Statler hotel where an alligator bag containing part of the loot—$18,000 in mink coats and wraps, was abandoned.

The victims, Henry Rosen and William Lewis, told police they were playing a game of gin rummy about 7 p. m., last evening when two unmasked bandits entered their room on the 14th floor.

"Turn around and keep quiet," they quoted one of the gunmen as saying.

They reported the pair then marched them into the bathroom, bound their hands with neckties and taped their mouths. Then the bandits packed a number of mink furs into large packing boxes in the room, ignoring 25 less valuable beaver and persian lamb coats, and left.

Story of Scot, Mistaken for U. S. Soldier and "Shanghaied" Is Told

Washington, Jan. 23—(AP)—A youthful Scot mistaken for an American GI was shipped "home" from England in 1946 and discharged with a pocketful of cash, the Army acknowledged today.

An official statement said the records show that "Fred Phillip Bast," who says he is better known in Glasgow as Alistaire Nicholson, never was "legally inducted or enlisted" into the Army.

He received a discharge, however, a year ago last Dec. 9 at Ft. Sheridan, Ill.

The Army said it is still trying to find out exactly what happened.

Nicholson, now in custody of immigration authorities, claims he was shanghaied into the army by military policemen after a U. S. officer heard him order coffee in a Southhampton tea shop. He said the officer reasoned that a coffee drinker in England must be an American Army deserter.

The Army statement last night said the discharge was based on a temporary service record filled out in the European theater from statements "Bast" made under oath.

Such records are furnished to soldiers whose permanent file is missing.

Making false statements in this connection, the Army said, is punishable under federal law by up to a $10,000 fine and ten years in prison.

Nicholson contends that after his arrest in Southampton he first denied being an Army man but "confessed" after hours of grilling my MP's. That was in June 1946.

He said he was sent to a detention barracks in Paris, pleaded guilty to a charge of being in Southampton "without proper written authorization" and was sentenced to serve three months.

Eventually he was put aboard a boat for the U. S. to be discharged.

As a result of his adventure, Nicholson declared, he received $1,257 in Army pay, $300 mustering-out pay, $14 travel pay and $920 in $20-a week unemployment benefits under the GI Bill of Rights.

He surrendered to immigration officers Jan. 4 after telling his story to the New York Daily News.

Seek Showdown with Russ Soon, Churchill Warns

London, Jan. 23—(AP)—Winston Churchill declared today western Europe must unite quickly and demand a showdown with Moscow before the Russians develop atomic weapons, possibly in a year or so.

Even an early showdown "would not guarantee that war wduuld not come," Churchill said, but:

"I believe it would give the best chance of preventing it and, if it came, we would have the best chance of coming out of it alive.

"I believe the best chance of preventing war is to bring matters to a head and come to a settlement with the Soviet government

Decatur Merchant to Aid of Soldier

Decatur, Ill., Jan. 23—(AP)—A Decatur business man today put up $500 in a short term loan so Pvt. Harold Sims can rescue from Ellis Island and marry the Italian girl he met while in service abroad.

Renato Leonardo, with whom Sims fell in love while stationed at Udine, Italy, has been at Ellis Island since Dec. 23. When she arrived then, after Sims paid her steamship passage, he learned he must post $500 bond to allow her to enter the country.

Sims had used up all his savings in paying the steamship passage, he said. He has been trying ever since to raise $500 in a short term loan, since the bond money will be returned to him as soon as they marry.

When his plight was published yesterday in The Decatur Review, three would-be lenders telephoned the Red Cross immediately. The money from the accepted lender, who desired to remain anonymous, is being deposited in a Decatur bank and the New York Red Cross chapter is being asked to advance the funds to Sims.

Sims, a student in the Signal Corps training school at Fort Monmouth, N. J., hopes to get a furlough to marry his sweetheart tomorrow or Sunday, it was reported here.

Perfect Example of Helping-Hand Reciprocity Seen in Woodford Co.

El Paso, Ill., Jan. 23—(AP)—Thirty-three years of giving each other a helping hand brought 50 Woodford county farmers into this town of 1,600 today to aid their city friends in cleaning streets and yards of debris left by a New Year's day storm.

Robert Mayne, who organized the farmer group, said the farmers expected to finish today the job they started yesterday. The farmers used their tractors, axes and cross cut saws to clean up parts of fallen trees, brush and twigs.

The collection of debris was hauled to the city dump where it was burned. Then all the farmers were taken to El Paso's two cafes where they were treated to noontime meals.

The tradition of neighborly relations between residents of El Paso and nearby farms had its start in 1914 when 160 farmers brought horse teams into town to haul 700 loads of dirt from the county fairgrounds into town to fill in the city parks.

A severe coal shortage struck the city during sub-zero weather on Jan. 20, 1918, and relief was brought to El Paso residents when farmers used 39 sleds to bring 78 tons of coal into the city from Roanoke, 13 miles away.

Six months later, farmers were hit by a labor shortage and businessmen organized the "Twilight Shock Troops" to help harvest grain during evening hours. The men received pay for their work, but all the money was turned over to the Red Cross.

In 1932, El Paso businessmen gave a hand to depression-struck farmers in organizing a community auction sale of farmers surplus stock and machinery. The auction resulted in such marked success it was adopted as an annual event.

This year the auction will be held Feb. 26.

Divorce Is Granted to Frank Daschbach, Jr., by Judge Dixon

Frank Daschbach, Jr., was granted a divorce from his wife, Jean Margaret, by Judge George C. Dixon in Lee county Circuit court after the charge in the case was changed from adultery to cruelty and the jury was dismissed.

An amended complaint changing the charge to cruelty charged Mrs. Daschbach with striking the plaintiff with an iron rod in their home Aug. 2, knocking him unconscious, and with hitting him on the head and shoulders with a bedroom chair while he was sleeping Aug. 10, cutting and bruising his face, shoulders and arms.

Daschbach was awarded custody of their son, Michael Lee, 3, and household property. They were married in Oak Park Oct. 24, 1942, and separated last Aug. 25.

Jury Dismissed

Judge Dixon dismissed the jury for the term when Attorney E. S. Wadsworth, representing Daschbach, and R. L. Bracken, representing the defendant, filed the amended complaint and answer and asked that the case be tried by the court.

A case originally set for trial Monday, Livestock Mortgage Credit Corporation vs. Keller, has been carried over from this term of court.

Judge Dixon also amended a divorce decree granted Mrs. Ethel Etnyre here June 27, 1947, from Byron E. Etnyre, which ordered him to pay $12.50 weekly in alimony and support of a child, Susan Ann.

The support payments were cut to $7 weekly since Mrs. Etnyre remarried Dec. 31, according to the petition.

Other Court Activities

Judge Dixon will set dates for arguments of motions for new trials and other pending motions in Lee county Circuit court at 10 a. m. Jan. 27, members of the bar were notified today.

Earl Long's Margin In Louisana Growing

New Orleans, Jan. 23—(AP)—Earl K. Long's plurality in returns from Tuesday's Democratic primary for governor of Louisiana neared the 100,000 mark today, and indications were it might approach 110,000 when all the boxes are in.

Returns from 1,644 of the state's 1,878 precincts gave Long—a former governor and brother of the late Senator Huey P. Long—216,928 votes. A poor second with 123,323 was Long's arch political foe, former Governor Sam H. Jones who will enter a second primary against Long on Feb. 24.

In one-party Louisiana the Democratic primaries decide the governorship.

Imagination

Cleveland, Jan. 23—(AP)—When William P. Bigler of Gates Mills contracted to buy a stone residence in nearby Chesterland from Arnulf G. Rose for $26,500, he hadn't discovered the existence of a nearby pig farm.

And when Bigler declined to go through with the deal—too much aroma, he said—Rose took the case to court.

Now Common Pleas Judge Julius M. Kovachy, in a six-page memorandum, has ruled the odor in the neighborhood is more imagination than scent. Bigler will have to go through with the purchase.

Confesses Murder of Retired Farmer

Pekin, Ill., Jan. 23—(AP)—Sheriff Herbert Hirstein of Tazewell county said last night that a 41-year-old Peorian, once previously questioned in the case and released, had signed a statement admitting the fatal shotgun slaying Jan. 13 of George Coorts, 60, well-to-do retired farmer.

Hirstein said that in the statement Harry Brustin told of firing two shots at Coorts in his farm home near Dillon because "a voice kept ordering me to shoot."

The farmer was sitting in the kitchen when a gun barrel was smashed through the window and the first shot fired. After Coorts staggered to the living room he was shot again.

Rearrested Tuesday

Brustin first was questioned the night of the shooting and after taking a lie detector test was released two days later. He was rearrested last Tuesday. After another lie detector test yesterday, he signed the statement, Hirstein said, then led officers to a culvert near Coorts' home where the gun was found partially buried in a drain.

Spent shotgun shells were found on the roof of a tavern in Tremont where Brustin said he had gone to summon a doctor for Coorts.

Brustin's second arrest followed a report that a man "looking like" him and carrying a gun was seen near Coorts' home the night of the shooting.

Adversity has ever been considered the state in which a man most easily becomes acquainted with himself, then, especially, being free from flatterers,

Adversity is sometimes hard upon a man: but for one man who can stand prosperity, there are a hundred that will stand adversity.

When We Work With God

Scripture: II Corinthians 5:20—6:10

BY WILLIAM E. GILROY, D. D.

"Workers together with God"—that is how Paul described himself and those associated with him.

As God loves through human agencies, so He works through human agencies. Life is a partnership between God and man, and much of the trouble with the world and humanity is due to man's failure to keep his part in that partnership.

In some things, God is an active partner, making His will and purpose clear through Christ and Christ-like men. In the moral and spiritual realm it is a truism that "he who runs may read." "The wayfaring men though fools, shall not err therein." "If any man will do His will, he shall know of the doctrine." In their inclination toward doubt and speculation, men have made great mysteries of much concerning moral and spiritual life that, in God's ways of working with man, is sure and simple.

I remember once asking our family doctor about another physician, whose reputation seemed to exceed his real abilities and achievement. A basket of fruit was sitting on the table. "He is the sort of man," my friend, said, "that, if he were looking for that fruit, he'd be digging 15 feet into the ground to find it." Too many men have been like that in their quest for things that God has made simple.

But, in other things, God seems a silent, though none the less real, partner, working through laws and forces often deeply hidden, which He left for man's quest, discovery and use. Why this is we do not know, and in it is the real mystery of life and providence. Why revelation in the moral realm has been so clear and strong, while, in the things affecting man's physical life and wellbeing, discovery of fact and truth has been so slow, is indeed a mystery. For, only after several thousand years of man's life on earth, have many of the things in the very warp and woof of our modern life come into discovery and use—steam, electricity, radio, and the whole new worlds of the telescope and the microscope. Yet these were there through the ages, awaiting man's discovery.

No doubt, there has been divine purpose in this. The men of science and action, who have sought to know and use the laws and forces of nature have been workers with God though they have not always realized or acknowledged it. It would seem fitting that the moral foundations of living should be clear and simple, the possession and privilege of the lowly as well as of the great, of the unlearned as well as of the learned. But God-like powers and dignity are conferred upon man in the role of creator, discoverer, and benefactor of his fellowmen.

To work together with God is very different from what man's life would have been if he had known everything without effort, and there had been nothing to seek. God's ways are mysterious, but God knows best.

All Americans in Berlin Don't Play In Black Market

Boyle Learns the Good Side of Occupation Record in Reich

By HAL BOYLE

New York—(AP)—"It must be the other guy he means."

That was one quick reaction abroad to a recent account in this column by a "Berlin Charley" of How American men and women take part in Germany's black market.

A letter from a newspaper colleague in the German capital reports that "Berlin Charley's cynical picture "raised indignant flushes as well as embarrassed blushes" over there.

The indignant flushes, he said, were on the faces of the Americans in Germany who aren't in the black market and haven't resorted to the tactics the nazis once used themselves to plunder occupied countries.

Presumably the "embarrassed blushes" belonged to those who are playing the black market.

There Is Good Side

My colleague objected, however, that accounts like that given by "Berlin Charley" failed to mention the thousands of conscientious American military & government employes in Germany who never made a dishonest dollar. He said they feel the home folks give no credit "to the drab but worthy performance of a job well done," and added:

"A high military government official, commenting on the latest black market investigation which is being conducted by Judge E. Earle Rives of Greensboro, N. C., as a special representative of Secretary of the Army Kenneth Royall, observed:

"'Of course, there's a black market here, as everywhere else in Europe, and many Americans are in it. So are other nationalities. But it seems to me that I've also heard about a black market in the United States—in automobiles and oher things—and that's in the richest country in the world.

Temptation Is Great

"'We have 150,000 Americans in Germany—a country beset by privation and want, where millions of people, distrusting their currency, offer fantastic prices for food and cigarets. Temptation is great—greater than any ever known in the U. S. But there are thousands of Americans in Germany who never yielded to temptation, and it can be proved that the crime rate here is lower than for a comparable number of people in America."

"There are thousands of people here, Hal, who work seven days a week at their job. There are tens of thousands who, out of their own pockets, are feeding German families—and we don't mean tossing a chocolate bar to a fraulein for favors.

"Communist propaganda here incessantly tries to make the point that Americans and their wives are 'looting' Germany., But the fact remains that the Americans and British alone among the occupying forces pay their own way in dollar and sterling instruments. They aren't living off the German economy—as for instance the Russians—but in the last year poured in more than a billion dollars worth of food. Just ask the Germans if they feel the Americans are looting them. Ask the Germans if they would like to see the Americans leave Berlin. That latter possibility is now one of their greatest fears."

Ferret Out Profiteers

My friend then goes on to acknowledge that American wives are buying china and figurines but that some of them just do so in order to furnish their homes (Army supplies frequently aren't sufficient) and that dozens of Germans needing money and food come to their doors offering the treasures.

He says one officer recently was fired out of the theater after he was caught trying to send home 20 crates of china he had traded in return for about a ton of coffee.

Well, that's the kind of people "Berlin Charley" meant. Guys like him and the lady who tried to send home seven grand pianos. That's the kind the present Army inquiry is after.

The others—the ones doing their jobs and refraining from capitalizing on human misery—are making for America the friends she needs today everywhere.

American Experts Should Direct Aid Program: Brooks

Tells New York Group Europe Must Work For Recovery

New York, N. Y., Jan. 22—Addressing the 293rd meeting of the National Industrial conference at the Hotel Waldorf Astoria here tonight, Senator Brooks called for administration of the European Aid program by experienced representatives of American business, industry, labor and agriculture.

The Illinois Senator, who recently returned from an extensive inspection of war torn western Europe stressed the fact that just as American know-how was enlisted in the major operation of winning a war, so again should the same type of American leadership be called on to direct Europe's post-war recovery program to be financed by American money. Senator Brooks urged that every effort be made to safeguard against the use of "political hangers-on in government departments or bureaus" in the further development of the aid program which is the major consideration pending before the Eightieth Congress.

Not for Full Program

Senator Brooks warned that the Truman plan of $17,000,000,000 does not include the $800,000.000 needed annually to feed the Germans in the American zone nor the $500,000,000 to feed those in the British zone nor does it include any commitments for China or Asia.

This means, he said, that each average American family would have to increase its already heavy tax payment by $500. Further, he said, wide scale purchases of American goods by American money advanced to Europe will not only increase prices at home but will add to the short supplies of manufactured goods and raw materials at home..

Unless revised along more practical lines, the Marshall Plan will result in greater shortages and rationing, price controls, and further allocation and regimentation, he said. The average citizen is now working three days out of every ten to pay his taxes and working the other seven days to pay the ever-increasing cost of living. This heavy burden, Senator Brooks said, is carried not only to support our own government but to support Socialist governments abroad who foster and follow policies of price fixing, rationing, regulation, restrictions, unbalanced budgets, and false values of currency.

"There is altogether too much talk today in America about needing a 'third force' in Europe that is half way between the totalitarian system of Russia and the free enterprise system of America," Senator Brooks continued. "These left wing Socialist sympathizers call this new 'third force' the 'democratic socialism'."

The Senator also declared that the problem of creating incentive, work, and production in Western Europe will not be successful unless Europe changes its Socialistic plans and program and unless they go to work and produce themselves, "Everything we provide for them will be 'Operation Rat Hole'." The Illinois Senator further warned that, "No matter what we give them, it will mean higher prices, higher taxes, and will lower the standard of living of the already over-taxed average citizen in America. While we want to continue to be helpful and generous, we must not pile the mistake of tomorrow upon the mistake of yesterday, or we will be drawn down to the depths of despair of Europe, rather than help them rise by their own hard work and intelligent production.

"We must stop subsidizing socialist governments abroad, whether we call it charity, economic loans, political loans, an effort to stop communism, or a guarantee for future peace.

"The American taxpayers' money will not save Europe. Work and production are the only sound bulwark against the misery of communism."

Delegates to Party Meetings to Pay More

Philadelphia, Jan. 23—(AP)—Delegates and guests of the Republican and Democratic national conventions are faced with the prospect of paying increased room rates, ranging possibly as high as 50 per cent over the current rates.

This was disclosed yesterday by the Philadelphia Hotel Association.

Joseph E. Mears, president of the association, said the increase in room rates is necessary to compensate "for tremendous loss in room occupancies during the weekends just before and after the Republican meeting" here in June.

He explained that similar room rate increases would be placed in effect during the Democratic convention in July.

A Thought for Today

Not that I speak in respect of want: for I have learned, in whatsoever state I am, therewith to be content.—Philippians 4:11.

Happy of man, of mortals happiest he,
Whose quiet mind from vain desires is free;
Whom neither hopes deceive, nor fears torment,
But lives at peace, within himself content,
In thought, or act, accountable to none
But to himself, and to the gods alone.
George Granville.

Not Too Late

Although the 1947 Christmas Seal Sale officially closed December 25, there is still time for those who overlooked acknowledging the Christmas Seal Sale letters to make returns.

Connie L. Wood, Seal Sale Director said yesterday "Late returns to date have increased the seals to $8067.99. Already this money has gone to work to combat tuberuclosis in Lee County. The many who bought and used Christmas seals can feel pride in their sponsorship of the essential health project now under way. Anyone who comes across an unanswered Christmas Seal Sale letter should remember that by answering it he will protect his own health and the health of everyone else in the community."

Because tuberculosis is a communicable disease, even one case in the community is a threat to every other resident and no effort should be spared to find every case in the community. Tuberculosis has a long, symptomless on-set, people say, therefore, have the disease and spread the disease to others before they realize they are ill. Tuberculosis can however, be discovered by means of the chest x-ray.

That is why your tuberculosis association urges every adult to have a chest x-ray at least once a year. The case finding activities of the Association are financed by the sale of Christmas Seals. Let's show our approval of the Association's work by buying Christmas Seals.

Gambling for Peace

American aid to Europe is a gamble, whether it is given through a Marshall Plan, a Herter Plan, or somebody else's plan. But that does not mean that the chance must be taken blindly, with no notion of whether we shall win or lose until the results are in.

Three factors ought to be considered by the gambler who isn't willing to depend on sheer luck. There are the mathematical odds against your doing what you set out to do, as in dice. There are past performance and present condition, as in horse racing. There are the strength and intentions and idiosyncracies of your opponent, which, considered with the mathematical odds, is what makes some people better poker players than others.

In the case of European aid, the first consideration can be ruled out. There is no mathematical formula for predicting success or failure.

The second factor is highly important. The present condition of the 16 nations is obviously bad, but the past performance of most of them is excellent. History gives us every reason to believe that if they are aided and strengthened, there will be more liberty, prosperity, security and happiness for all the world than if they are left in their present plight.

As for the third consideration, we are playing an opponent who is strong, clever and tricky. He is out to win. We have played him long enough to know that he does a lot of bluffing. But we are still not quite sure when he is betting from bluff and when from strength.

There is another gamble, of course, that we might take. We could pull out of the European game and let our opponent rake in his winnings, and start a game of our own. That would mean putting our country almost on a wartime footing, resuming selective service to build up our armed forces, and strengthening our national defense against possible attack. The chances are it would take more money even to buy chips for this game than it would to win the pot in Europe.

There is a third possibility. We could refuse to gamble. We could refuse to sit in on either game. And we could still wind up losing not only our money, but our freedom.

Those are the three choices. Only foolish friends and bitter enemies could advise us to take the third chance by telling us that our opponent is going to cash in his chips and get out of the game. We have known that opponent long enough to know that he won't take his winnings and get out until the cards against him are so strong that he runs the risk of losing everything by staying in.

Of the other choices, most Americans seem to prefer the gamble in Europe. The stakes are lower and the chances of winning seem better. But right now the American kibitzers are arguing whether we should simply cover our opponents's bet or raise it.

Well, our cards look good, and right now we have more blue chips than our opponent. If he's bluffing, a good strong raise might make him decide to turn his cards face down and bow out. If he isn't, we look to have the strength to go on raising as long as he does.

As Pegler Sees It

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

(Copyright, 1948, by King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

We get so sore in the big election years that we vote mad and pay high for the fun it gives us. In 1912 we of the lower orders, the Democrats that is, delighted to elect one of the historic mistakes of popular government, Woodrow Wilson. He was a supercilious, bloodless intellect who vampired his few fanatical friends and spat out their bones like a fellow at a fish-fry. He had no more respect for the individual human being than he had for a pig and he died of a tantrum because the senate wouldn't call him God almighty. Wilson put us into a war where we had no business on a rhetorical pretext about making the world safe for democracy, when a little backbone and belly would have saved the world most of the horrors that have ensued. The old tory New York Tribune and Theodore Roosevelt and Leonard Wood were nagging Wilson to cheap heroics. The Tribune, of course, wanted to save the British empire. T. R. and Wood pictured themselves riding brewery nags up some gentle hill with faithful rough riders—illitererate, y'know, but the salt of the earth -bleeding nicely on white bandages, while a phonograph offstage yawped the Marseillaise.

Had Wilson sat tight a little longer, the allies and the Kaiser would have put their heads together and traded off a few southforties and desirable corners and the world would have resumed the old groping progress toward who knows what?

Suppose Belgium had disappeared. Suppose Poland had reappeared with a king. How many countries have appeared and disappeared, how many democracies and ersatz kingdoms since the peace of Versailles? One excuse for that war the morally indefensible polyglot empire of Austria-Hungary. Then, instead, we got the polyglot semi-barbarian kingdom of Jugoslavia and the incompetent, self-devouring republic of Czechoslovakia.

All that and another war and now still another on the back of the stove warming up.

We were doing fine up to 1912. William H. Taft had taken Theodore Roosevelt's place and was doing a mediocre, journeyman job and, so help me, that is the only fault we had to find with him. He was just going along from day to day and not making enough noise. We like noise.

We let T. R. heat us up against Taft, a good, steady-going president who would have let them fight their heads off in Europe. I was thinking of the worst. Suppose we had got Jim Watson, of Indiana, for president after Taft in 1912. That would have been pretty bad but much better him than war.

This year we can have Bob Taft or Tom Dewey.

Taft has got political B. O. because he had the integrity to fight the horribly corrupt and ruinous union racket. I don't know how bad a handicap that is, but if the American worker has any brains he will realize that the Taft-Hartley law deprives him of nothing and protects not only him but the whole country from the most dangerous racketeers that we have had since the helter-skelter days of railroad promotion. Taft has integrity and a sense of the importance of government to people He did some of his growing up in the White House and, barring his school days, he has been around the works of the main plant of our government all his life. That is the way you learn to lay brick, fix a watch or any other trade.

To compare Taft and Truman or Dewey and Truman on moral grounds is brutal to Truman. Any man who will flunkey to a fellow who takes his two-bits out of every dollar on the day book of every brothel in a wide-open town stamps and classifies himself. Truman flunkeyed to Tom Pendergast and there he stands.

This is not an attempt to incite anger against Truman. I know our people too well. They are more likely to think him a very likeable fellow.

We are more likely to let the racketeers heat us up against Taft for his labor emancipation law or against Dewey for saying grace at meals.

Between Taft and Dewey I think I would take Dewey because he has had more actual experience in a great political administrative office and has come through with a wonderful record. Four years ago many of our people voted for Roosevelt only because we were at war, forgetting that he wasn't above steering us into war just to put the voters into that very fix. Otherwise, Dewey might have been elected.

It was an awful mistake not to elect him then. He would have made Stalin come to him and wouldn't have let those awful slobs of Roosevelt's go traipsing all over the world throwing away American locomotives, rails, cars, tractors, synthetic rubber factories and whole warehouses full of food and clothing, and giving the credit to Russia.

Dewey has one bad fault. In 1944 he okayed the Wagner act just in the vain hope of whittling off a few CIO votes. He might better have saved his breather and his self respect. He knows it is a rotten law. But he says the only way to get anywhere in politics is to get elected and the only way to get elected is to get votes.

Every once in a while he and Truman get into a promising match about Palestine. They both know the people of the United States will surely take it out on a lot of innocent fellow-citizens if the Palestine business ever gets us into a serious shooting. But they both want that eastern Zionist vote and so they say things that somebody might be very sorry for one of these days.

Can't we ever learn to mind our own business?

Dewey is a great team-worker. I saw him as district attorney, and that staff of his was like a good football team. They worked all hours, and Tom always was willing to let some fellow take the ball on the touchdown play who had done a lot of blocking on the way down.

When they nominated the handsome stranger in 1940, Dewey worked as hard for the big meathead as he would have for any other party man. But in 1944, Willkie merely "endorsed" Tom and sucked his foot because he had lost out in the Wisconsin primary. And this year, if the Republicans turn Tom down, whether for Taft or whomsoever, you will find him out on the tubs again, working for the candidate.

The old darkey clergyman was asked why he was such a good preacher. (This same thing might apply to the newspaper business.) He said, "The secret is this. First I tells 'em what I'm going to tell 'em. Then I tells 'em, and then I tells 'em what I told 'em!"

OFFICE Nurse

By [illegible]

THE STORY: Janice Hilary, pretty, efficient young nurse to popular and handsome society doctor Eric Holbrook, runs his office for him. When little Betty Jane Coxe, the other nurse, suggests to spinsterish Miss Willows, one of the doctor's two secretaries, that Miss Hilary might get married and leave, Miss Willows replies: "Miss Hilary will never leave. Not unless something unforeseen occurs! It's a pity, a terrible pity." Janice Hilary returns home on this particular day to find a surprise visitor. It is Ben [illegible], a childhood friend, back after three years overseas. Ben still appears to be in love with Janice, although she has never given him any encouragement. He does not approve of her being a career girl.

TONIGHT Miss Willows was having an orgy. She was going through some of her treasures. She was enjoying a nostalgic pleasure few collectors of the rarest prizes seldom entertained. For tonight, alone in her little flat, she was looking over some of the mementoes of the years spent in Dr. Holbrook's employ.

There were cards and ribbons saved from every gift the doctor had given her. And there had been a gift upon every occasion; flowers or candy until Janice Hilary had started purchasing every gift Dr. Holbrook gave, even the ones that went to his wife. Janice always chose something not only fitting but miraculously just what one wanted.

I wonder, Miss Willows thought, unpacking a box of handkerchiefs which Janice had selected and which were far too fine to carry and risk losing, I wonder if the doctor's wife minds that his office nurse purchases the gifts her husband gives her. Birthday and Christmas and anniversary presents, and only recently all the new airplane luggage, when Mrs. Holbrook had decided, suddenly, to fly to France.

"So it's France this time, is it?" [illegible] mouth in a prim line of disapproval when Janice had confided the destination of their employer's wife's most recent trip. "Gadding all over the globe. You'd think a wife would stay by her husband's side at least part of the time. But each season seems to call for some special place—Florida, Bar Harbor, Bermuda, Saratoga, Lake Placid—and now France."

"Mrs. Holbrook has some property in France," Janice had reminded her. "It's only natural that she should want to go see about it now that the war's over."

"I should think she could pay somebody to do that for her." Miss Willows had remained unconvinced. "With all her money. All the fine houses she owns everywhere. She oughtn't to leave the doctor so much and so long. The poor man cannot have much of a home life. And a man as busy as he certainly needs that. But Mrs. Holbrook—"

"DO you know, I've never seen Mrs. Holbrook," Janice had interrupted. "Is she as beautiful as her portrait?"

"She's beautiful, all right." Miss Willows had not sounded, however, as though she approved of the kind of beauty the doctor's wife possessed any more than she approved of her habits.

"It's too bad," Janice had said, "that they haven't any children."

"She wouldn't want children." Miss Willows had sniffed. "She couldn't take that much time out from her travels and entertaining. Besides, it might spoil her lovely figure."

No, Miss Willows made no secret of the fact that she thoroughly disapproved of Mrs. Holbrook.

She had not approved of Janice Hilary, either, when the young nurse had first come to take the place of the nurse who had left because her mother was ill. Ag- [illegible] any living relative who could have been important enough to cause her to leave Dr. Holbrook. No one, nothing, could be that important.

That had been what she had meant when she had told Betty Jane that Miss Hilary would never quit. No one who worked for the doctor ever wanted to leave.

"It's a pity—a terrible pity," she had said, not knowing what had made her say it.

Still, it was. For if Janice Hilary stayed on with Dr. Holbrook, as of course she would, she would never be able to leave. Even if some young man, as Betty Jane had suggested, should urge her to. And Miss Willows no longer resented or disapproved of Janice Hilary. She had become, indeed, very fond of the young nurse during these past four years of close association.

[illegible], Miss Willows [illegible], [illegible] I ought to say something to her.

What could she say? See here, Janice, unless you watch your step you'll walk the same chalk mark I follow. The same straight line to doom: to adore and serve—almost worship—a man who could never return even a degree of that devotion. Or who, should he ever want to do such a thing, would not dare. Or if he dared, still he could offer nothing more than for the woman to go on tending and caring for him.

Miss Willows did not know how she could be so certain that there could never be more than those stale crumbs for any woman who gave her heart to the doctor. Yet she did. She knew it with almost as much certainty as she knew that Janice Hilary would not be able to resign from her position unless the unforeseen made her resignation necessary.

Mrs. Holbrook was not the sort of wife who got—or gave—a divorce. And Janice, being a nice girl, was not the sort to have anything to do with a man who could not offer her marriage.

Dear me! Miss Willows thought, I ought not to think such things—not about Dr. Holbrook and Janice. It wasn't as though either of them were in love with the other.

Dramatic Club Is Preparing Play

A flashlight flickers on, then off in a deserted mansion in New Year's Eve. A man disappears up the stairway, then a couple comes stumbling into the dark room.

Soon more people are walking in and out of the room, some mysteriously, others for perfectly logical reasons.

Thus does the curtain rise on the first act of the D H S. Dramatic club production, "Midnight" by the author of many well-known plays, Glenn Hughes.

A hard-working cast has been chosen to present the play, Feb. 6, at the D.H.S. auditorium under the direction of Miss Charlotte Dethart.

Decatur, Ill, Jan 23 (AP)—Robert S. Sorrell, 31, Decatur pilot and instructor, has been grounded for 15 days by a Civil Aeronautics Board trial examiner of charges of executing spins over Lake Decatur and operating his plane in a reckless and careless manner

Albert H. Ruppar, the examiner, issued the order yesterday after a hearing. Mark Cooper, state aeronautical inspector, alleged Sorrell made spins over the lake while carrying a passenger without a parachute, and made a right turn into the traffic pattern of the Municipal airport

Charges that Leslie A Gilbert, Arcola airport manager, flew his plane recklessly and carelessly while landing at Danville, were dismissed by Ruppar yesterday. Reece Martin of Oakland, who was a passenger in Gilbert's plane, alleged Gilbert flew the plane carelessly in attempting a emergency landing at Danville after the motor failed. The plane crashed but neither was injured seriously.

The Senate banking committee renewed its consideration of possible laws to combat further increases in the cost of living.

Taft said he is "inclined to believe" congress should insist that the president proceed under the GOP anti-inflation law passed at the special session of congress.

Truman's own idea is that congress should give him wage-price controls and rationing power to use on an "if necessary" basis.

the U. S. military government economic division, said in a broadcast last night that $750,000,000 worth of food, will be imported at the expense of the U. S. and British governments into the two western zones this year. This marked a 50 per cent increase over last year and an expene to the United States alone of $600,000,000.

Commies Back Strike

A union spokesman said "Communist workers" supported the Munich demonstration and 24-hour general strike.

Crowds of small shopkeepers and artisans unaffected by the industrial walkout in 26 major cities and scores of smaller towns swarmed around suburban trains running for military personnel only.

Reports from suburban areas of the Bavarian capital said these commuters, trying to get to work, threatened conductors on the military trains and shouted angrily: "We want to work. These well-fed Americans do not have to strike. They can use trains to go to work."

Railroad authorities finally ordered emergency trains put on for suburban traffic.

Workers Stay Home

North of strike-bound Bavaria, where hundreds of plants closed down over a 30,054-square-mile area and government workers in many cities failed to report for work, thousands of travelers were stranded in the stations.

In Coburg, Hof, Munich and Nuernberg demonstrations were scheduled at various times during the day.

In most cities workers stayed home.

The strike, called by the Bavarian trade union and supported by the Communists, began in Munich at midnight when employes of street car lines and German railways walked off their jobs.

At 7 a. m. when German day shift factory workers ordinarily go to work, reports from throughout Bavaria said hundreds of thousands were staying at home.

At 9 a. m. the situation was quiet.

Nuernberg Trouble Feared

Communist elements in Bavaria have been quick to take advantage of the walkout, which affects all trade union members except those working for public services and the American military government.

There were indications that the strike might continue through Saturday, since some workers greeted the walkout as a "fine three-day holiday."

Further trouble was feared in Nuernberg, where 100,000 workers ended a 24-hour strike yesterday. Similar strikes have affected 100,000 in Cologne and another 200,000 in the Ruhr.

In a counter-measure against the protests, the British American bizonal control board has authorized the release of 5,000 tons of imported fats to boost rations to 40,000,000 western Germans during the coming month.

Control authorities admitted that the normal consumers ration of 1,550 calories a day had not been maintained and in some cases had fallen as low as 1,100 calories.

Nelson

The regular monthly meeting of the Nelson P. T. A. was held Wednesday evening at the Nelson school house. The meeting was opened by all singing America. The president, Harry Remrey, presided. Minutes of the previous meeting were given by the secretary, Mrs. Amelia Remrey and approved. Paul Timmons gave the treasurer's report. Plans were made to have a box social and "Minstrel Show" at the school house Saturday evening, February 14th, at eight o'clock. The public is cordially invited to attend and each family is asked to bring a box of refreshments. Mrs. Willard Salmon is directing the "Minstrel Show." Following the meeting games were enjoyed. In the string contest Mrs. Virginia Suitts and Mrs. Edith Ortgiesen were the winners and in the guessing contest, Mrs. Florence Holoday and Mrs. Lucille Sharp were awarded the prizes. Refreshments were served in the basement and at that time cup cakes were auctioned by their most able auctioneer, Harry Remrey. The nice sum of twenty-eight dollars was realized. This being the "Father's Night," the program was in charge of Jake Gall, Paul Timmons and Harry Remrey. Refreshments were in charge of John Gale, LeRoy Genz and Wallace Janssen. The next regular meeting will be "Founders Day" and will be held Wednesday evening, Feb. 18th with a scramble supper preceding the meeting at the Nelson school house. A fine attendance was present.

Mrs. Edward Ortgiesen attended the Sterling O. E. S. meeting Monday evening and several members of Grand Chapter appointments were honored.

Edward Hollenbeck has returned from Colfax, Iowa where he attended a three-day convention which was held Wednesday, Thursday and Friday by the Foxbilt Feed dealers.

Wendell Sutton left Friday for Grand Rapids, Michigan, where he will visit his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. John Herron.

Elmer D. Collins has recently organized a group of boys ranging in age from ten to fourteen years for the purpose of learning drill formation and group marching. Meetings are held each Wednesday evening at seven o'clock at the Nelson town hall. All boys of this vicinity are invited to join the group and if enough are interested Mr. Collins may eventually convert the group into a Scout troop. He is to be commended for this fine work as the parents here would like to have Scouting introduced into Nelson as it has been many years since a Boy or Girl Scout troop was held. Many parents have signified they would be willing to assist with such a project.

here had many huddles over the so-called Eisenhower threat.

BACKERS' ACTIVE

Chicago, Jan. 23 -(AP)—Gen. Dwight Eisenhower will not be entered in the Illinois presidential preference primary April 13, officials of the Illinois Eisenhower-for-President Club said today.

In New York, meanwhile, merger of the Illinois Eisenhower-for-President Club with the National' Draft Eisenhower League, Inc., was announced today by Robert Scheftel, national chairman of the league.

Joseph Moller, an executive of the Pure Oil Co., Chicago, has been elected a director of the league and appointed temporary chairman of the Illinois branch, Scheftel said.

Moller, a World War II bomber pilot, and Bernard Epton, his Eighth Air Force navigator, have been leading the Illinois organization and claim a club membership of more than 2,500. Epton is president of the Illinois Republican Veterans League and Moller is group commander of the Air Force Association of Illinois.

The announcement quoted Moller as saying Eisenhower backers in Illinois would withdraw their plans to place candidates in the Illinois preferential primary in keeping with league policy to do nothing that might embarass Gen. Eisenhower while he still is in uniform.

The announcement was issued before Eisenhower said flatly today in Washington that he "could not accept nomination to high political office."

PUBLISHER COMMENTS

New York, Jan 23—(AP)—Leonard V. Finder, publisher of the Manchester (N.H.) Evening-Leader, whom Gen. Dwight Eisenhower informed of his refusal to accept high political office, said today the general's refusal is "not in the best service of the nation."

Finder, in New York on business, said he had not yet received the text of Eisenhower's letter but that it was read to him by telephone by a war department aide in Washington.

Meanwhile W. A. Jamison, Jr., assistant executive secretary of the Draft Eisenhower League, said "we are in draft proposition and we don't know how this statement would affect it."

speculation over whether they can agree on the foreign aid program, with prospects of a deep Republican split if they do not.

But while Vandenberg and Taft appear to be coming closer together on their views, another of their GOP colleagues, Senator Jenner of Indiana, lashed out at the administration today for what he called an attempt to "frighten the congress and the American people into complete support" for the Marshall plan.

Jenner Critical

Jenner contended that is the reason the state department decided suddenly this week to publish German foreign office documents revealing secret-Nazi-Soviet agreements reached between 1939 and 1941.

The Indiana senator said in a statement that the action came (a) 18 months after the American and British governments had agreed the information should be made public and (b) "at a time when the administration sees a growing opposition to the adoption of a costly European recovery plan".

Contending American officials failed to make use of the documents during six top-level international conferences involving the Soviet union, Jenner addded:

"Yet while the chief executive of this nation, and his secretary of state, were attempting appeasement of the Russian officials, just as Mr. Chamberlain sought to appease Hitler at Munich, these American diplomatic representatives, unlike Mr. Chamberlain, had information in their possession with which they could have forced Russia to effect a world peace".

That, Jenner declared, "would obviate the necessity today of spending seventeen billions of American taxpayers' dollars to halt the spread of Communism in Europe".

People's Column

FROM GEO. W. LINDQUIST

Dear Mr. Editor: Some time ago you ran an editorial dealing with the efforts of cities to seek money for their operation from the State Funds. I am taking this means of conveying some of my thoughts to you on this subject.

It is a matter of record that our City Council has petitioned for action from the legislature on this subject, and as a member of that council I felt that this was a question which should be thoroughly debated and settled.

In our early American history one of the factors which welded the colonies together against England was that of taxation without representation. Involved was the question of tax collection and distribution on a basis of whim rather than fairness.

This demand on the Illinois legislature is not peculiar to Illinois alone, but is being agitated in several states. I believe it will be wrong to embark on a program of the state collecting taxes, and controlling the distribution to municipalities. I do not believe taxes can possibly be redistributed equitably., and in redistributing a very considerable portion of the population of Illinois would have taxes collected from them, and in no way be able to secure a return to assist them in governmental fashion. A set-up required to administer a program of this kind would create a more deeply entrenched bureaucracy, with the temptation to distribtue funds on a basis of expediency.

It is my belief that taxes should be collected on the level on which they should be expended. In that way people will control their political destiny. In certain fields such as roads, unemployment insurance, etc., it is proper that the state collect taxes and redistribute for it is on the basis of overall benefit The tax levies to operate a city should be ample to cover municipal operation, and if our present system does not yield ample revenue then we must seek revision of the taxing laws to correct that fault.

As I see the present situation, there is a considerable balance in the state treasury and this of course opens the discussion to the point of trying to get some of this money diverted for uses other than intended, to ease a diffcult position for municipalities, but which will revenue be secured if this fund is depleted. The expenses of running the cities will still go on, and they again face the question of deficits.

If the taxing power of the state is too great, so that more money is secured than is required it would seem to me that the method used by the state should be revised downward, and the state taxing power be reduced.

I believe that our present taxing laws for local governments must be revised in light of present and future demands, and I think this question should be properly explored by the legislature at the request of the cities.

Respectfully yours,

George W. Lindquist

before it is too late," Churchill told the House of Commons.

Can't Last This Way

"You may be sure the present situation cannot last. There are very grave dangers in letting everything run on and pile up until something happens and the matter passes all of a sudden out of your control."

The Conservative party leader endorsed the Labor government's proposal for unification of western Europe as a barrier to the spread of Communism.

Chances for reaching an agreement with Russia are better now than "if we waited until the Soviet government had got their atomic weapons developed," he said.

Churchill, wartime Conservative prime minister, recalled that when the present parliament convened he predicted Russia would have the atom bomb in "three or four years." Now "two years have already elapsed."

Attlee Replies Today

Churchill appeared fully recovered from his recent illness. He spoke 45 minutes in a firm, clear voice and his sallies kept the House alert.

Churchill read portions of a speech he made 15 months ago in which he said everybody was worried whether there would be another war and in which he "expressed no opinion."

Since then "the situation has deteriorated—and especially in the last six months," he said.

Prime Minister Clement R. Attlee was expected to reply to Churchill later today.

Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin opened the two-day debate yesterday with the labor government's sharpest attack yet on Russia. He proposed a democratic union of western Europe, establishing what some quarters here saw as a major shift in British foreign policy.

Ohio Clinches Tie for Little 8 Crown

Ohio, Jan. 23—(Special)—Overtime field goals by Swede Anderson and Ted Conner gave Ohio a 43-40 edge over Sheffield last night, clinching a tie for the Little Eight conference championship. One more victory will bring the title to Coach Charles Brooks' club.

The Bulldogs were set back on their heels for three periods as Sheffield, hardly rated a chance in pre-game reckoning, set up a 31-27 lead.

Regulation time ran out with the score a 39-all deadlock and the winning buckets followed. Anderson hit 16 points for the evening to grab individual laurels for the Bulldogs.

Ohio also won the prelim game, 32-22, behind the 16-point scoring effort of Conner.

U. S. to Observe South American Ball Technique

Columbus, O., Jan. 23—(AP)—The United States' sphere of influence—in baseball—is about to extend into South America.

That was indicated today when George M. Trautman, boss of the statewide minor loops, said he would send an official observer next month to Panama, Venezuela, Puerto Rico and Colombia to study the situation.

Bob Finch, publicity director for the National Association of Professional Baseball leagues, and Trautman's right bower, has been named ambassador, and he's making the trip at the invitation of the Latin American groups.

Will Visit Cuba

Finch said he would stop off at Mexico City for a chat with Mexican Baseball Commissioner Alejandro Aquilar Reyes, who is about to shake hands with American Commissioner A. B. (Happy) Chandler, a gesture expected to put a halt to controversial either-way over-the-border talent raids.

The golden-tongued Finch also will visit Havana, where the Cuban league already has the blessing of the U. S. association, and where American minor leaguers—some 30 of them—play with their club's permission during the winter season.

Wildcats Boast Ace Frosh Cagers

Evanston — (Special) — Coach Dutch Lonborg whose Northwestern university basketball team has encountered rough going this season, may well wish the Big Nine had delayed another year in reinstating the freshman residence rule.

This year's freshman squad contains a number of talented players, several of whom, no doubt, could hold their own in varsity competition at the present time. From an original turnout of 75 players, Freshman Coach Bob Clifford has trimmed the squad to 25 players, the bulk of whom will be welcome additions to next year's varsity squad.

Three of the Wildcat yearlings ranked among the outstanding high school players in the Chicago area a year ago. They are Dave Allen, 6 foot 3 inch forward from Waukegan; Jake Fendley, 6 foot forward from Chicago's South Shore high school; and Ray Regalis, 6 foot 4 inch center from East Chicago, Ind.

Dean Pieper of Clinton, Ia., who turned in the best interscholastic time for the mile run in 1947, is equally proficient on the basketball court, judging from his showing on the Purple frosh squad.

Tallest member of the squad is Norm Raedle, 6 foot 5 inch center from Evanston. Other promising prospects are Al Giusfredi, guard, Cicero; Dick Robinson, forward, Connersville, Ind.; Doug Bielenberg, guard, and Chuck Swanson, forward, Elgin.

GAME FACTS
EVENT—Dixon's fourth NCIC start.
PLACE—Dixon high school gym.
TIME—Frosh-Soph tipoff at 7 p. m.
COACHES—Lee Davison (Dixon), Gil Love (Ottawa).

Dixon attempts to hoist its NCIC record to an even 2-2 tonight in its first home appearance since Dec. 26. Ottawa's Pirates furnish the opposition.

The Pirates, coached by Gil Love, will be in search of their third loop triumph as against a pair of defeats. Mendota and DeKalb fell victim to the Ottawans but Princeton and Rock Falls turned the tables.

Ottawa licked LaSalle-Peru twice and Seneca in non-conference activity, suffering reverses at the hands of L-P, Marseilles and Streator.

Glenn Malan, a 5-11 transfer student from southern Illinois, packs the enemy's top scoring punch. He's joined in the starting lineup by Bill Bradish (6-0), Don Chalus (6-1), Dean Riley (5-11) and Albert Law (6-0). Riley is the lone experienced monogram winner.

Johnny Eckhart

Dixon's Record 5-11

Dixon, with a 1-2 NCIC ticket, has won five and dropped 11 this season, notable chiefly for the high-class opposition provided by such schools as West Rockford, Freeport, Bloomington, Beloit, Wis., and East Aurora.

Coach Lee Davison will again have John Eckhart at his disposal for starting duty after the forward's two game layoff with an ankle injury.

To take in Eckhart, Steve Christ will retire to the bench. Jim Phelps, George Wallace, the club's No. 1 pointmaker, Loren Munson and Stan Fish remain on the front line.

Dixon's frosh-sophs, with a 1-2 league record and a 4-7 overall mark, take on Ottawa's underclassmen in the 7 o'clock prelim. Ottawa has won three of four NCIC games and six of 10 all in all.

Coach Wally Coon of the locals doesn't anticipate any lineup changes from the group that trimmed Hall last week. That means Jim Mercer and Don Sproul at forwards, Jack Nolan at center and Bob Leonard and Floyd Acker in the backcourt.

DUROCHER'S WIFE RECEIVES HER FINAL DIVORCE DECREE

Los Angeles, Jan. 23—(AP)—When Leo (Lippy) Durocher and movie actress Laraine Day will go through with plans for a second wedding ceremony remained an unanswered question today.

Miss Day received her final divorce decree yesterday from James Ray Hendricks, aircraft parts salesman, but the manager of the Brooklyn Dodgers denied reports that he and the actress will go through with another marriage immediately.

Durocher and Miss Day were married in ElPaso, Tex., Jan. 21, 1947, a day after she was granted an interlocutory decree from Hendricks here. She had obtained a Mexican divorce in Juarez on the same day.

Bobtales

By BOB FALLSTROM

Princeton and Hall Township are likely to stage a rematch of tonight's NCIC shindig when the finals of the Bureau county tournament come up a week hence.

The powerhouses drew opposite bracket assignments in the meet and are distinct favorites to wade through such opposition as Ohio, Manlius, Depue, etc., can provide.

Adding fuel to the explosive situation was two developments from the rival camps yesterday.

The LaSalle-News Tribune named Dick Morel, high scoring Princeton forward, player of the week because of his bag of 53 points in the last three games.

Meanwhile Princeton's coach, Al Lewis, watched Hall lick St. Bede Tuesday, 50-37, on Harold Meek's 24-point scoring job and then promptly told a reporter, "Meek is unquestionably the greatest player I have ever seen. He can do everything. I don't know how we can stop him."

THE FINISH—This is to notify City league officials, players, sponsors and coaches that the writer has resigned as circuit secretary-scorekeeper. For two futile years now we've backed up the league with time and space through a succession of petty arguments.

But it's no use. The league isn't anything now and never will be because a few individuals have to display their "personalities." Personally, we can spend Thursday night to a lot better advantage than carrying on a feud with a few ignoramuses.

Just to clean everything up, Knacks last night added Francis Melchi and Gene Hall, Sterling High school coach, to their roster and Reynolds Wire picked up John "Pinky" Walters, dropped by Knacks.

FROM THE MAIL BAG—In regard to a recent observation in this space, an out of town fan writes, "I think I can give you a couple of reasons why the touring basketball clubs are turning out to be floperoos.

"The night the Globetrotters were there, there were some odd 300 to 500 people standing out in the freezing elements from 15 to 30 minutes. I was one that stood there for 30 minutes before they would open the door. Many were from surrounding towns and the feeling was that they didn't intend to do it again.

"From the comments I heard on the Red Heads, I think they were a bit of a disappointment to many. The Globetrotters put on such a good show that had they been the last game of the season, the other games would have had better attendance.

"Of course this is just one person's opinion, but I know that I for one don't intend to go to any of their games early, hoping to get a good seat and then freeze to death waiting to get in."

AWARDED NUMERALS—The Beloit college news service reports Jack Schultz and Carroll Schumacher of Dixon this week received freshman numerals in official recognition of freshman sports accomplishments in services held in the college chapel.

Schultz did some fine quarterbacking for the yearling football squad while Schumacher, state 880 champ, ran for the freshman cross-country team. Both men are expected to be a big help next year to Beloit varsity clubs.

SHORT SHOTS—The February issue of Sportfolio features several pages of remarkable photography on the Golden Gloves . . . Dick Wallace of DeWitt, Ia., leads the Illowa conference individual scoring race with 77 points in five games. Cliff Yell of Sterling Community ranks fifth on a 55-point compilation . . . A. P. Taylor, who runs a billiard hall in Ohio, feted Coach Charles Brooks' Bulldog cagers this week in honor of their Little Eight conference tournament sweep. The affair included a decorated cake, no less . . .

BYRON ATTRACTS NOTICE

Small Schools Sail Along Unbeaten, too

Dom DiMaggio isn't saying yes or no. Neither is Emily Frederick, Boston socialite, but friends expect an announcement. Miss Frederick, who first met the youngest of the famous outfielding family when he joined the Red Sox, is in San Francisco with her aunt, and The Little Professor took her home to meet the folks.

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 23—(AP) Attracting little attention, a half dozen small Illinois high school basketball teams are sailing along unbeaten after 13 or more games.

The fans don't hear much about such outfits as Breese, Byron, Chenoa, Arenzville, Hoopeston and Mt. Olive because they seldom can match the power of perennial big school favorites, which crowd them off the sports pages and generally lick them in showdown tournament play.

But occasionally they scale the heights — like Braidwood did in 1938, reaching the state championship before bowing to Dundee.

Enrollments of the 1948 mighty midget schools range from the 47 pupils of Breese in Clinton county to the 300 of Hoopeston, in Vermilion county near the Indiana line.

Win in Breese

Fifteen of the 23 boys at Breese are on the Cardinal cage squad, which clubbed St. Jacob 101-26 on Jan. 8, in the course of piling up 16 straight victories, a mark unequalled by unstopped larger quintets. The Cardinals have tallied 975 points for an average of just under 60 a game.

In midstate, Arenzville draws its 100 students from a village of 434 population and neighboring farm communities. The Cass county basketeers also are unbeaten in 17 tilts.

Byron, an Ogle county entry in the Route 72 conference, is making things hum in northern precincts where it has polished off 16 foes in a row.

Hoopeston has spun a 15 game skein, numbering among its victim such big fellows as Urbana and Onarga Military. Herb Neathery, a husky lad who starred on the gridiron last fall, is the Cornjerkers' big gun.

Chenoa Wins 13

Chenoa has bowled over all 13 opponents, including Bloomington, Normal and Pontiac. The McLean county Red Birds, accustomed to a 60 point scoring clip, recently thumped Pontiac, 65-40.

Princeton, Hall Square Off; Polo Invades Lanark

Princeton, Jan. 23—(Special)—The long-awaited Hall Township-Princeton cage argument will be settled tonight before a jam-packed audience.

Coupling the two undefeated titans of the North Central Illinois conference, the battle ranks as one of the season's best. Hall boasts an overall mark of 15 victories and one loss while Princeton has won 12 and lost four.

OTHER GAMES

Other NCIC games this evening are Geneseo at Sterling, Rock Falls at DeKalb and Rochelle at Mendota.

In the Blackhawk circuit, Polo travels to Lanark for an important showdown game and Mt. Carroll is booked at Oregon.

Franklin Grove is at Lee Center, Plano at Paw Paw, Malta at Steward and Walnut at Toulon.

EYE PRINCETON, IND., AS ILLINOIS STATE LOOP TIMBER

Decatur, Ill., Jan. 23—(AP) — Baseball boosters of Princeton Ind., have requested and been granted until Jan. 31 to decide whether it will be possible to accept a franchise in the Class D Illinois State league, Howard V. M. Millard, league president, announced today.

Millard said he told a representative of the group that their city would fit in geographically with the league's setup and that it would leave the way open for Paducah, Ky., also to accept a franchise.

Cities in the Illinois State league are Belleville, Centralia, Mattoon, Marion, Mt. Vernon and West Frankfort, all in Illinois.

ORGANIZE COMMISSIONS

Two states thus far have organized harness racing commissions to govern the sport in their domains — New York and Illinois. All other states where parimutuel betting is legal are presided over by the established racing commission, handling both the standardbred and thorobred sport.

AttleeDeclines to Seek Peace Talks With Moscow Now

Conferences Would Not Deter Red Offensive Across Europe

By DEWITT MacKENZIE
(AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)

Britain's Socialist prime minister, Clement Attlee, used just one crisp sentence yesterday in rejecting a proposal in the House of Commons that he organize a meeting with President Truman, Premier Stalin and the heads of other allied states in an effort to prevent further deterioration of the international situation Said Mr Attlee:

"While I am anxious to take any steps which might lead to improvement of the international situation, I do not feel that a conference of this kind would be likely to advance matters at present"

Position Misunderstood

Naturally one looks sympathetically on all legitimate efforts to further peace However, this proposal by a member of parliament strikes me (and apparently struck Mr Attlee) as indicating a misunderstanding of the exact nature of the conflict between Russia and the western allies Since that lack of understanding is widespread it's well that we take a look at it

Why wouldn't such a conference "be likely to advance matters at present?" Well the cold fact is that Soviet Russia is in process of waging an offensive against the democracies for the spread of Communism, and hasn't the slightest idea of abandoning it This column has emphasized that point before, but it takes a lot of repeating. So let's pin it down again.

Fighting Marshall Plan

We are in the midst of the world revolution which the Bolshevists projected when they won their revolt in 1947 and established a Soviet regime in Russia. A couple of years later they set up the Comintern, or general statff for world revolution, which was active until 1943 when Moscow announced that it was being abolished. The recently created Cominform, which comprises the Communist parties of nine European countries and was organized under direction of Russia, is widely believed to be in effect a revival of the Comintern It's immediate object is announced as defeat of the Marshall plan for rehabilitation of western Europe—a defeat which would advance the Red cause immeasurably.

Reds on Offensive

Don't forget that the last World war was precipitated when Moscow signed a non-aggression pact with Hitler, and they agreed in advance to divide Poland between them. Nazi Foreign Minister Von Ribbentrop testified at his war crimes trial at Nuernberg that Moscow also offered to join Hitler against the western allies, but said that the Russian price was too high. Anyway the war started, but Hitler became suspicious of Moscow's intentions and attacked Russia.

The war created the European chaos which was exactly suited to the spread of Communism. Even before the conflict ended, Russia was busy establishing Communist governments in eastern European countries occupied by Soviet troops. As a matter of fact most of the Red advance was achieved by the time peace came Since then Moscow has been consolidating that ground and laying plans for conquest of western Europe.

Tale Needs Repeating

Do you think that the Soviet union is going to halt her world revolution at the crucial stage? Not by a jugful' She is going to fight the Marshall plan with everything she has, and not until that plan has succeeded, and made Western Europe safe, will any conference among the big four chiefs of state be worth a moment's consideration. As a matter of fact any overtures by the western democracies now would look like appeasement and would do more harm than good

So there's the twice-told tale, and if necessary this column will tell it again, because our security depends on recognition of these facts.

Says Railroad Labor Should Back Seaway

Chicago, Jan. 23—(AP)—William T. Faricy, president of the Association of American Railroads, said today the nation's carriers will "have to fight to a finish" the demands of three rail brotherhoods for a 30 per cent wage increase and changes in working rules.

Faricy said the possibility of a railroad strike or another round of wage increases "is a serious threat not only to the railroads but to the country as a whole"

Faricy addressed a joint luncheon of the Mid-West Shippers Advisory Board and the Traffic Club of Chicago

Politics

Roundup of Developments in Nation Political Picture by AP

Washington, Jan. 23—(AP) — The CIO split wide open, but only politically, today over Henry Wallace's third party bid for the presidency.

The executive board of the labor organization which gave solid support to help elect the late President Roosevelt to a fourth term in 1941 voted 33 to 11 to reject Wallace's entry into the 1918 campaign as "politically unwise"

And the dissident group—representing about 1,250,000 of the organization's claimed 6,000,000 membership—gave every indication of plugging for Wallace anyway.

Harry Bridges, president of the International Longshoremen's Union and leader of the so-called left-wing element which opposed the anti-Wallace resolution, told reporters the Democrats won't stand "the chance of a snowball in hell' of electing President Truman in November

Meanwhile "stop-Eisenhower' talk has cropped up in Republican circles But there is almost no indication that the major candidates for the GOP presidential nomination can get together—even behind the scenes.

The talk stems from the promised widespread entry of Gen Dwight D. Eisenhower's name in state primaries, plus the results of recent popularity polls. These two factors have led some of the followers of the announced candidates to feel that something ought to be done to ward off the possibility of another convention blitz such as the late Wendell L Willkie staged in 1940.

The three top runners in the campaign—Gov Thomas E. Dewey of New York, Senator Robert Taft of Ohio, and former Gov. Harold E. Stassen of Minnesota—apparently have given a great deal of thought to the possibility that they might knock each other out to the advantage of Eisenhower.

But strategists for each of the three denied in separate interviews that there is any combination in prospect

Taft and Dewey supporters say frankly that there is no common ground on which they can compromise Both men want to be president Denied this, they would rather retain their present jobs.

Stassen has maintained non-hostile relations with the Taft camp, but if his followers convince him he ought to go into Ohio's May 4 primary, there will be open war between him and Taft.

The former Minnesota governor has made it so plain that he doesn't like some of the things Dewey stands for that there is little left except cold hostility between them.

They apparently are going to pass up what some of their followers believed might be a chance to knock off Eisenhower in the March 9 New Hampshire primary

There had been some suggestions that they divide a delegate slate, leaving half of it unpledged and throw their combined strength behind it.

The CIO chiefs did agree on one thing after their bitter word battle wound up yesterday in the 33-11 vote for a resolution condemning the Wallace presidential movement.

This is that all will stick together as a labor organization regardless of their political differences.

However, Bridges, along with Hugh Bryson, president of the National Union of Marine Cooks and Stewards, and Albert Fitzgerald, president of the big Electrical Workers Union, promptly announced their unions won't be bound by the executive board's opposition to Wallace

The anti-Wallace resolution did not mention the former cabinet member by name but declared that 'a third party would only serve to split and divide the forces of progress at the very moment when unity is our greatest need"

Saying that "at this time the CIO is in no way committed to any presidential aspirant," the resolution added·

"We do not agree with the argument that a third party presidential campaign would mean a larger vote and a greater possibility of electing progressive senators and congressmen. We believe that our support of a third party would weaken the possibility of electing a progressive congress"

However, Bridges contended that with "the inspiration of Roosevelt missing" Wallace is the best bet to bring out the voters.

There was no immediate comment from Wallace.

Says Railroads Will Have to Fight Wage Increases to Survive

Washington, Jan. 23—(AP)— Senator Wiley (R-Wis) said today he is "convinced" that the overwhelming" rank and file of American railway labor knows that development of the St. Lawrence seaway and power project will "inevitably" involve vast expansion of railroads.

"To oppose the seaway," Wiley said in a statement, "is the most reactionary effort conceivable and railroad labor has always prided itself on advocating 'liberal' or 'progressive' causes."

"The welfare of railroad workers," he added, "will hardly be served by trying to 'freeze' in immobility a transportation system that was good for a 70 billion dollar economy but is hopelessly inadequate for a 210 or 250 billion dollar economy of the future"

Legislation to authorize the seaway, introduced last session by Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich) for himself and 14 other senators, will be debated by the senate next week
